Keep Talking – the Next Level

Fluency practice on challenging topics

Content and aims

What's in the news at home and abroad? Current affairs are natural topics of conversation when working internationally and ideal for practising your communication skills. Come to this interactive webinar and take the art of professional small talk to the next level by discussing in-depth topical issues in a diverse range of communicative settings.

Topics include political, economic, social and cultural issues, as well as what is currently trending in Austria, the EU and the rest of the world.

Communication skills include

- getting complex information across
- making your point in discussions
- engaging your conversation partners' interest

It goes without saying that essential phrases and key vocabulary are part of the package!

Working method

- Interactive webinar (with pair/group work)
- Optional online follow-up

Target group

People who want to move beyond small talk and improve their fluency when discussing substantial, thought-provoking topics.

This seminar is open to people with CEFR levels B1, B2 and higher.
